CHELSEA

Mrs. Flora A. Morey Died in Her 66th Year After Two Years' Illness.

Mrs. Flora A. Morey passed away early Monday morning, Jan. 10th, after a lingering illness which had confined her to the house for a period of nearly two years, the cause of her death being chronic nephritis. Mrs. Morey was a native of Tunbridge and the daughter of James H. and Roxanna Jones. At the age of twelve years she moved with her parents to the farm on the Stafford road which is known to-day as the Charles Gifford farm, and she received her education in the schools of Tunbridge and Chelsea and in November, 1878, she married Alonzo F. Morey and until about twelve years ago they lived on the farm on the east hill now owned by Judge S. C. Wilson and occupied by Cami M. Beexwith. To them were born six children, three of whom lived to maturity, viz., Claudia, who married Amasa P. Burton, who died about twenty years ago, Albert F., who lives in Boston, and Ray, who died about two years ago. During the last twelve years Mrs. Morey has made her home in this village with her sister, Miss Grace A. Jones, who has tenderly cared for her during her long illness. Mrs. Morey was a highly respected lady and enjoyed the confidence and esteem of all who knew her. She is survived, besides her son, by a granddaughter, Miss Claudia F. Burton; two sisters, Miss Grace Jones of this town and Mrs. Mary Puffer, who resides in Waterbury, Conn., and one son, Albert Morey, who resides in Muncie, Indiana. The funeral was held from her late home Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 11th, the Rev. Percival Hewitt officiating, and interment was in Highland cemetery, the bearers being Oliver E. Burgess, Ernest A. Corwin, Roy B. Sanborn and George Flint. Mrs. Morey was in her sixty-sixth year.

Mr. Cram, who recently came here from Boston for the winter, is working in the bobbin shop.

Harold C. West returned Saturday evening from Burlington, where he went as a delegate from the local post of the American Legion to the state convention of the officers of the various posts in the state. During his temporary absence Mrs. Eunice A. Lewis assisted Postmaster Flint in the office.

Fire Prevention.

Fire prevention—that is our slogan. Do all in your power to keep down the fire loss.

This is the time of the year you will be thawing out water pipes. Do not use torch. Do not use hot or boiling water. Wrap your pipes with old rags and put the hot water in them. You will get results. Just try it, in case you have a freeze-up.

Another thing, clean out your chimneys caps and keep stovepipes clean. Watch where you throw ashes and look at fire before going to bed or leaving premises.

Be able to inform firemen if you have a trap door leading to the attic. Look that trap door up. Get the location. Chief Heney.

Wiring your home is no easy task—if it is done carefully and in a way that will guarantee no short circuits and no fires in years to come. For incomparable workmanship, phone 263-W.

WATERBURY

Village Meeting Votes Use of Village Building for Community Club.

The village meeting Saturday evening was full of good fellowship and after an enthusiastic speech by Eugene Magnus, president of the Community club, all seemed willing to vote that it should have the village building for use as indicated. A motion to that effect by W. H. B. Perry and seconded by C. D. Swasey was quickly carried and followed by one by V. L. Perkins that the village look after a home for the fire company. The Community club now, through its executive committee, will formulate plans and improvements will be made, in which the community can have a just pride until better quarters may be had. A number of ladies attended the meeting.

Saturday afternoon the funeral of Mrs. Julia Preston Sweet, familiarly called Grandma Sweet, was held from the Christian Advent church, Rev. L. E. Peabody officiating. The bearers were Verne Coffin, Ed Gillett, Frank Morse and Clinton Morway, and the burial was at the Center. The deceased was the widow of Joseph Sweet and lived for many years on Perry hill. For a time past she had been with her daughter in Vershire, from which town the body was brought. She is survived by three children: Mrs. Elmer Ayers of Vershire, Ernest Sweet of Worcester, Mass., and Raymond Sweet of Middlesex; also four grandchildren and one sister in Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Smith have returned from a trip to Boston.

Mrs. Erwin Cooley, who has been ill in bed, is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Harvey and Thaddeus Harvey, Jr., spent the week end in Stone with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ploof and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Marston.

Albert Knight of Burlington, one of the pages at the legislature, was a week-end guest at the home of T. E. Atkins.

Edgar Wright of Norwich university was a guest Saturday of his brother, Eugene Magnus.

The condition of B. F. Atherton's hand is rapidly improving.

A Million Dollar Baby

Naturally, those who see this heading expect to read about some "baby heir" of an American multi-millionaire. They will be surprised to learn that such a description applies to a scientific tooth and mouth preparation. They will doubtless wonder also how such a product ever came to be spoken of as a "Million Dollar Baby."

So the story must be told. Over three years ago the Rexall Research Department, in consultation with medical specialists and dentists, began an exhaustive investigation into diseases that enter the system through the mouth and nose. In their characteristic thorough way, they spent over two years before they perfected a compound which answered every test and received the endorsement of medical opinion. Such a remarkable demand was created last year, that the sales are expected to run over a million dollars. This very wonderful amount, in its early success prompted the Rexall people to call Klenzo Liquid Antiseptic their "Million Dollar Baby."

During the epidemic last year probably no preparation devised for use as a germ combatter was found more efficacious in preventing contagious diseases that enter the system through the mouth and nose than Klenzo Liquid Antiseptic. This Rexall product can be purchased in 25c and 50c special toilet bottles at any Rexall Store.
